Rescue Party to Leave To-

LAST WORD TUESDAY

Radio Operator Believes
Crew Left Submarine

(BULLETIN)

OSLO, Norway, Sept. 4.—Organized relief for the possible rescue of Sir Hubert Wilkins and the members of the crew of his Polar submarine Nautilus, whose whereabouts in the Arctic are uncertain, got under way today at the behest of the Norwegian government.

The Norwegian minister of defense ordered the vessel Frithjof Nansen, now at anchor at Marstad, to proceed immediately to the relief of the Nautilus party.

OSLO, Sept. 4.—With the Norwegian government ready to launch a rescue expedition in case of necessity, Norwegian scientists and explorers remained confident today over the safety of Sir Hubert Wilkins and his crew aboard the submarine Nautilus despite lack of definite news.

Helland Hansen and Captain Riser-Larsen, expert arctic men and veteran Arctic explorers, declared today they saw little reason to be unduly nervous. They pointed out that above the eightieth degree of latitude there is a "zone of silence," which wireless signals can penetrate only under perfect atmospheric conditions.

SIGNALS HEARD

The last word heard from the expedition was on Tuesday night when the steamer Ingertre heard the Nautilus signals. The Plesner whaling company's cookery on Bear island in the Arctic also picked up the submersible's signals, some time before the Ingertre heard them.

The director of the Norwegian telegraph service said he believed the weakness of the Nautilus signals was probably due to the fact that the operator of the Nautilus was sending from his portable set instead of the powerful transmitter built into the control room of the craft. This would indicate, he said, that for some reason it had been necessary for the crew to leave the submarine and take to the ice.

While maintaining confidence in Sir Hubert's safety, Captain Riser-Larsen said he was ready to take off for Bergen today on the first leg of a rescue flight in behalf of the silent explorers. T. Oslo newspaper Morgenbladet stated that the Norwegian government was ready to plan a relief expedition if no direct word was received from the craft by night fall.

PERNAMBUCO, (RECIFE)
Brazil, Sept. 4.—Carrying sixteen

p. m. last night, but Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander, delayed his pairs. A large crowd cheered the great ship as it gracefully turned northward for another Atlantic crossing.

ist candidate for president and trol wagon with Thomas were the Rev. Bradford Young, Episcopal clergyman of Brooklyn, and the Rev. Spear Knebel, of the New York Protestant Episcopal diocese.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 4.—An SOS call was received today from the Hamburg-American liner Burgen-land, which went on the rocks between Nagasaki and Shanghai in the Yellow Sea.

The vessel grounded in a position 34 04 north, 126 15 east.
The Burgenland, a ship of 7, 320 tons gross, was launched in 1928. The craft is 426 feet in length, with a 61 foot beam and 25 foot depth.

against him resulting from the "diamond ring case," in which he Bostwick declared that the court was without authority to suspend him pending the hearing.

Former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker represented 1,400 persons who have petitioned for the judge's removal.

Defense attorneys indicated following Judge King's ruling today that they would file a writ of prohibition with the court of appeals to halt any further action by Judge King in taking testimony on Bostwick's case.

Court was adjourned until Tuesday to permit Bostwick's attorneys to file the application for a

ANGRY THROG TELLS O'HARA TO QUIT TOWN

dent Ired Over Attempt

WOULD EMPLOY RAIL
Prominent Chicago Man
Plans to Leave

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 4.
—Threatened by a crowd to be ridden out of town "on a rail," Barrett O'Hara, famous Chicago lawyer and criminologist, who was mentioned as possible associate defense counsel for Harry Powers, bluebeard murderer of five, planned to return to Chicago today.

A heterogeneous mob staged a demonstration against O'Hara as he was leaving the county jail after visiting Powers with the latter's chief counsel, J. Ed Law.
The demonstration reflected the inflamed sentiment of the community against any attempt to strengthen the chances of Powers to escape the hangman's noose.

As the noted criminal lawyer smiled, the crowd hooted and shouted.
"We don't want no outsider comin' down here to keep us from hangin' a yellin' dog," shouted one man.

"They say Al Capone sent him here from Chicago," said another man in overalls.
Somebody else suggested that the American Friendship Society of Detroit, the matrimonial bureau through whom Powers conducted his mail-order love-making, had hired O'Hara to aid in the defense.

An old war veteran stamped his cane and croaked:
"Let's ride him out of town on a rail."
The cry was taken up.

O'Hara, of the silver hair and tongue, laughed and walked over to the war veteran.

"My friend," he said "Let's shake hands. We're liable to understand each other better after we get to know each other."
"No sirree," shouted the old veteran. "I ain't going" to shake hands with you."

Although O'Hara has been in this city for two days conferring with Chief Counsel Law, former state's prosecutor, it was consid-

GAS IS USED IN EXECUTION

Nevada's Improved Method of Dealing Death Used For Fourth Time.

CARSON CITY, Nev., Sept. 4.— Nevada's "improved" method of capital punishment was employed today for the fourth time.

As the first rays of morning sunlight crept over the gray stone walls of the state prison, gas quietly snuffed out the life of Louis Ceja, 28.

The young Mexican, convicted of the slaying of Charlie Fong, wealthy Winnemucca Chinese cafe owner, ended a three-months stay in the penitentiary death tier when he breathed the almond scented deadly fumes generated by the chemical reaction of an acid upon a powerful chemical.

The execution was witnessed by 78 persons, including ten women, who peered through the double glass windows which line the walls of the lethal gas chamber.
Ceja was granted his two last requests. He was given a fresh shave and hair cut and a drink of whiskey.

The condemned man who wore a bright red carnation on the chest of his prison denim shirt waved his hand to the crowd and at 5:30:25
a. m., the "eggs" of death-dealing chemicals were dropped by three strings into their waiting pans of acid.

BODIES RECOVERED
Father, Delirious, Tells of Fatal Accident

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 4.—Victims of drowning when the automobile in which they were taking a pleasure ride plunged off a road near here into 20 feet of water in the Scioto river, Mrs. Sarah Jane Reichley, 29, and her five children were dead today.

Patrick H. Reichley, 31, husband and father, a hennman for the Ohio Bell Telephone Company, escaped injury when he was thrown from the car into the water as it hurtled off the road.

The five children who were drowned with their mother were:
Juanita, 6; Conrad, 9 Robert and Raymond, four-year-old twins, and Charles, 2.

The bodies were all recovered.
BLAMES STEERING
Reichley, delirious with grief following the tragedy, said that something went wrong with the steering apparatus of the machine.
"I don't know exactly what did happen," Reichley told Coroner Edward E. Smith. "Maybe I looked around and ran off the road or maybe I was driving over a little too fast. The wheels skidded. It was dark at the time and I couldn't see the road so well."

"There had been considerable play in the steering wheel of my car lately and something may have gone wrong with it."

The automobile was to be examined today in an effort to determine the cause of the accident.
The tragedy occurred on a narrow dirt road along the east bank of the Scioto river one and a half miles north of Fishinger's bridge.
"I was driving very slowly," the children were in the back seat quivering quite a lot of noise and having a good time and my wife and I were talking," Reichley said.
"Suddenly something happened."

Reichley said he was hurled either through the door or the window.

RAN FOR HELP

Terrified when he found his car had plunged into the river, Reich-ley ran to a restaurant on the River road and asked an employee to call police.

The automobile was brought to the surface by firemen, assisted by a wrecking car crew from the Columbus Auto club and several onlookers who were attracted to the scene of the tragedy.

Nearly 200 persons gathered at the scene and watched the rescue efforts.

Deputies from the office of Sheriff Harry T. Paul hastened to the scene when word was received of the accident.

Mrs. Reichley is a sister of Mrs.
Robert Reid of Akron. She is also survived by her mother, who lived at the Reichley home, and her sister, Mrs. Mary Nott of Detroit, and two brothers, Moses Cox of Mt. Carmel hospital, and Joseph Cox, New York.

non-stop speed race in history.

The pair of aces, James Goodwin Hall, New York's flying broker, and Art Goebel, winner of the 1927 Dole derby to Hawaii, with six other noted racers were engaged in the competition for the 2,040-mile

Expected to round the home py-their attempt to crack Hawk's rec-

OSLO, Norway, Sept. 4.—Organized relief for the possible rescue of Sir Hubert Wilkins and the members of the crew of his Polar submarine Nautilus, whose whereabouts in the Arctic are uncertain, got under way today at the behest of the Norwegian government.

The Norwegian minister of defense ordered the vessel Frithjof Nansen, now at anchor at Marstad, to proceed immediately to the relief of the Nautilus party.

WOULD EMPLOY RAIL
Prominent Chicago Man Plans to Leave

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 4.—Threatened by a crowd to be ridden out of town "on a rail," Barrett O'Hara, famous Chicago lawyer and criminologist, who was mentioned as possible associate defense counsel for Harry Powers, bluebeard murderer of five, planned to return to Chicago today.

A heterogeneous mob staged a demonstration against O'Hara as he was leaving the county jail after visiting Powers with the latter's chief counsel, J. Ed. Law. The demonstration reflected the inflamed sentiment of the community against any attempt to strengthen the chances of Powers to escape the hangman's noose.

As the noted criminal lawyer smiled, the crowd hooted and shouted.

"We don't want no outsider coming down here to keep us from hangin' a yellin' dog," shouted one man.

"They say Al Capone sent him here from Chicago," said another man in overalls.

Somebody else suggested that the American Friendship Society of Detroit, the matrimonial bureau through whom Powers conducted his mail-order love-making, had hired O'Hara to aid in the defense. An old war veteran stamped his cane and croaked:

"Let's ride him out of town on a rail."

The cry was taken up. O'Hara, of the silver hair and tongue, laughed and walked over to the war veteran.

"My friend," he said, "Let's shake hands. We're liable to understand each other better after we get to know each other."

"No sirree," shouted the old veteran. "I ain't going to shake hands with you."

Although O'Hara has been in this city for two days conferring with Chief Counsel Law, former state's prosecutor, it was considered.

RIDERS IN SCHOOL BUS CRASH ESCAPE

Eight passengers of a Clarksburg school bus returning from the Ohio State Fair at Columbus escaped injury, Thursday, when the driver, Joe Ater, fell asleep at the wheel and ran the truck off the road crashing into a telephone pole, two and one-half miles east of Clarksburg.

When the bus crashed all of the glass on the left side was broken, the right side was badly smashed, a door was torn off and the engine damaged.

The passengers were severely jolted but escaped any injury. The bus was the third load of people who were returning from the fair. The other two had already arrived at Clarksburg.

GAS IS USED IN EXECUTION

Nevada's Improved Method of Dealing Death Used For Fourth Time.

CARSON CITY, Nev., Sept. 4.—Nevada's "improved" method of capital punishment was employed today for the fourth time.

As the first rays of morning sunlight crept over the gray stone walls of the state prison, gas quietly snuffed out the life of Louis Ceja, 28.

The young Mexican, convicted of the slaying of Charlie Fong, wealthy Winnemucca Chinese cafe owner, ended a three-months stay in the penitentiary death tier when he breathed the almond scented deadly fumes generated by the chemical reaction of an acid upon a powerful chemical.

The execution was witnessed by 78 persons, including ten women, who peered through the double glass windows which line the walls of the lethal gas chamber.

Ceja was granted his two last requests. He was given a fresh shave and hair cut and a drink of whiskey.

The condemned man who wore a bright red carnation on the chest of his prison denim shirt waved his hand to the crowd and at 5:30:25 a. m., the "eggs" of death-dealing chemicals were dropped by three strings into their waiting pans of acid.

The horse was also badly injured. Young Lucas was riding south enroute to his home when the auto also going south struck the horse knocking him to the brick pavement.

He was brought to Berger hospital and later taken to the offices of Dr. Lloyd Jones where he was given medical treatment.

FIVE CHILDREN, YOUNG MOTHER RIVER VICTIMS

Automobile Leaves Road Near Columbus, Father Is Only One Saved

BODIES RECOVERED

Father, Delirious, Tells of Fatal Accident

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 4.—Victims of drowning when the automobile in which they were taking a pleasure ride plunged off a road near here into 20 feet of water in the Scioto river, Mrs. Sarah Jane Reichley, 29, and her five children were dead today.

Patrick H. Reichley, 31, husband and father, a lineman for the Ohio Bell Telephone Company, escaped injury when he was thrown from the car into the water as it hurtled off the road.

The five children who were drowned with their mother were: Juanita, 6; Conrad, 9 Robert and Raymond, four-year-old twins, and Charles, 2.

The bodies were all recovered. Reichley, delirious with grief following the tragedy, said that something went wrong with the steering apparatus of the machine.

"I don't know exactly what did happen," Reichley told Coroner Edward E. Smith. "Maybe I looked around and ran off the road a little too far and the wheels skidded. It was dark at the time and I couldn't see the road so well."

"There had been considerable play in the steering wheel of my car lately and something may have gone wrong with it."

The automobile was to be examined today in an effort to determine the cause of the accident.

The tragedy occurred on a narrow dirt road along the east bank of the Scioto river one and a half miles north of Fishinger's bridge. "I was driving very slowly. The children were in the back seat making quite a lot of noise and having a good time and my wife and I were talking," Reichley said.

"Suddenly something happened."

Reichley said he was hurled either through the door or the window.

RAN FOR HELP

Terrified when he found his car had plunged into the river, Reichley ran to a restaurant on the River road and asked an employee to call police.

The automobile was brought to the surface by firemen, assisted by a wrecking car crew from the Columbus Auto club and several on-lookers who were attracted to the scene of the tragedy.

Nearly 200 persons gathered at the scene and watched the rescue efforts.

Deputies from the office of Sheriff Harry T. Paul hastened to the scene when word was received of the accident.

Mrs. Reichley is a sister of Mrs. Robert Reid of Akron. She is also survived by her mother, who lived at the Reichley home, and her sister, Mrs. Mary Nott of Detroit, and two brothers, Moses Cox of Mt. Carmel hospital, and Joseph Cox, New York.

BULLETIN

CLEVELAND, Sept. 4.—Roaring at record breaking speed toward their goal, the scene of the national air races, eight American speed aces competing for the Bendix trophy were headed directly into a terrific wind and rain storm which struck northern Ohio shortly before noon.

MUNICIPAL AIRPORT, CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 4.—Flying almost wing to wing, two of America's air speed demons today were streaking across the nation in the first west-east transcontinental non-stop speed race in history.

The pair of aces, James Goodwin Hall, New York's flying broker, and Art Goebel, winner of the 1927 Dole derby to Hawaii, with six other noted racers were engaged in the competition for the 2,040-mile Bendix derby trophy, but were also headed for New York in a non-stop race to better the record of Captain Frank Hawks.

SEEK BENDIX AWARD
Expected to round the home pylons here about 1 p. m., in the contest for the $15,000 cash prize and the Bendix trophy, the two were slated to continue their trip to New York without stopping in their attempt to crack Hawk's record of 12 hours and 25 minutes.

Hall was speeding eastward in his famous specially-constructed Lockheed monoplane, "The Crusader," at a height of 18,000 feet in order to make better time. He was aided by an oxygen tank for the high altitude. Goebel also was flying a Lockheed. Both ships were believed capable of averaging 250 miles an hour over the entire course.

Of the remaining six Bendix dash entrants, two others expected to continue on to New York if their time to Cleveland warranted an attempt at Hawk's record. They were Jimmy Doolittle, racing a Laird streamlined monoplane especially designed and built for the National air races, and Beeler Blevins.

All but two of the six speedsters planned to stop in Wichita, Kan., to refuel. Doolittle and Thomas Hunter were to halt at Winslow, Ariz., Amarillo, Tex., and St. Louis for more fuel.

TO BE HIGHLIGHT
Arrival of the transcontinental speed derbyists was to be the highlight of the Canadian day program at the air races today. Four closed course speed dashes, two of them for women pilots, and a realistic "dog fight" by five members of the famous Siskin unit of the Canadian royal air force, were events on the program to be staged at the airport.

Lowell Bayles, Springfield, Mass., speedster who will try to lower the world and American speed records for land planes tomorrow, set a new National air race record for

Here are five of Uncle Sam's aces who are competing in the free-for-all derby from Santa Monica, Cal., to Cleveland as the feature of the air races. All are flying high-speed ships and it is predicted that, with a good break in weather, new distance records are sure to be made. In event of exceptional time being recorded in the flight from the Pacific coast to Cleveland it is highly probable that the leading racers will continue on to New York in an effort to shatter Frank Hawks' coast-to-coast record of 12 hours and 25 minutes. Elapsed time will be figured so that stops for fueling are permissible.

Campaign Money Is Badly Needed By Both Parties

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3—Unless there is a miraculous return of prosperity, or other unlooked for developments in the next ten months, it is likely that the presidential campaign of 1932 will be the most economically conducted—from a money standpoint—since the turn of the century.

The reason for it is simple: both the Republican and Democratic organizations are broke. And even the most optimistic raiser of campaign funds can see but little chance of getting "real money" from contributors next year, business conditions being what they are, and the country in the economic doldrums.

The Democrats, in fact, are worse than broke. Their financial statement, filed with the clerk of the house, showed the total party indebtedness to be approximately $761,000, of which nearly half is owed to John J. Raskob, the national chairman, in the form of personal loans. Considering the fact that most of the other indebtedness consists of loans at banks which Raskob and some of his friends have endorsed, it is readily apparent that the genial Smith chairman stands out as the greatest political "angle" in the history of American politics.

The Republicans, while not so deeply in debt as the Democrats, have scraped the bottom of their usually well-filled treasury, and are now getting by on current operation expenses by small dribbles of contributions. For months past, these dribbles have been getting fewer and smaller, and there is real anxiety in organization circles over the situation. The Republicans have no Raskob to dole out those $1,000 checks to maintain current operations.

The expense of maintaining headquarters in Washington and keeping up the running fire of party propaganda cost each party roughly $3,000 a month. Each has a national chairman, an executive chairman, a publicity executive, and an office force. The Republicans recently have been economizing, and it has been rumored they are to disperse with their publicity department. Some of its work has not been very effective, anyway.

The one opportunity in sight for both parties to get some "real money" all in a lump lies in the auctioning of the party convention. The Democrats have frankly auctioned off their convention for the past ten years. Which ever city waved the biggest check before the committee got the convention. Thus, San Francisco in 1920, New York in 1924, and Houston in 1928.

The Republican, being more fortunate financially than their rivals, have not been so open about auctioning their quadrennial meeting, although Chicago, Cleveland and Kansas City all had to put up sizeable checks. But next year may be different. The Republicans are now having hard sledding in finding sufficient funds for current operations, and with the loss of popularity experienced by the administration during the three years of depression the outlook is not at all rosy.

Republican fund raisers who a few years ago were unable to go to New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Chicago and return with almost any required amounts have returned to Washington in recent weeks well-nigh empty-handed.

Maybe the issues and personalities of the '32 campaign will operate to persuade wealthy partisans to take the rubber band off the bankroll, but unless they do it looks like a tough year.

FAMILY FOOD GUIDE

Every meal Milk for children, bread for all.

Every day—Cereal in porridge or pudding.

Potatoes.

Tomatoes (or oranges) for the children.

A green or yellow vegetable.

A fruit or additional vegetable.

Milk for all.

Two to four times a week:

Tomatoes for all.

Dried beans and peas or peanuts.

Eggs (especially for children).

Without going so far as to maintain that "an apple a day keeps the doctor away," the Bureau of Home Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture puts in an emphatic word, now that the apple season is at hand, for this old friend among the fruits.

An apple a day surely will improve the diet of most families.

The apple is good food, and can be had when other fruits and vegetables are hard to get.

These characteristics of the apple are especially important in view of the fine apple crop that is expected this September, and the many possibilities of storing or preserving apples for winter use.

Apples are good food for the same reasons that vegetables are good. They furnish vitamins and minerals, and the crisp texture of the raw apple serves as a mild sort of roughage. They are by no means so rich in vitamins as the citrus fruit and tomatoes, but if eaten in sufficient quantity, they make up the food essentials which might otherwise be had only in scarcer and more expensive foods.

A family of ten including three adults and seven children should use every week:

Bread, 20-25 lbs.

Flour, 3-5 lbs.

Cereal, 10-12 lbs.

Whole fresh milk 43-56 quarts

Or, canned evaporated milk, 43-56 tall cans.

Potatoes, 30-40 lbs.

Dried beans, peas, peanut butter, 2-5 lbs.

Tomatoes, fresh or canned, or citrus fruits, 12 lbs.

Other vegetables (including some of green or yellow color) and inexpensive fruits, 30-40 lbs.

Fats, such as lard, salt pork, bacon, margarin, butter, etc., 6 lbs.

Sugar and molasses, 7 lbs.

Lean meat, fish, cheese, eggs, 10-15 lbs.

Eggs (for children), 8 eggs.

Hamburg Cakes on Onion Rings

Crisp Bacon and Milk Gravy

Potatoes Boiled in Jackets

RECIPES

Hamburg Cakes on Onion Rings

2 cups ground lean raw beef.

1-4 cup ground suet.

1 cup soft fine bread crumbs.

7 slices Spanish onion 1-2 inch thick.

1 tablespoon chopped parsley.

3 tablespoons butter

2 tablespoons onion juice.
1-2 teaspoon salt.
1-8 teaspoon pepper.
1 tablespoon water.
Lay the slices of onion in a buttered shallow baking dish. Pour over them 2 tablespoons of melted butter, sprinkle with salt and pepper, add the water, cover closely, and bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 30 minutes, or until tender. In the meantime, cook the chopped parsley in 1 tablespoon of butter and combine with the beef, suet, crumbs and seasonings. Knead until thoroughly mixed. Mold into seven flat cakes. Place each cake on an onion slice in the baking dish, and broil under direct heat for five minutes on each side. Baste occasionally with the drippings. Serve at once from the baking dish.

Scalloped Cabbage and Apples
2 quarts shredded cabbage.
1 quart tart sliced apples.
2 teaspoons salt.
1 teaspoon sugar.
2 to 4 tablespoons butter or other fat.

1 cup buttered bread crumbs.

In a greased baking dish place alternate layers of the cabbage and apples, seasoning each with salt and fat and sprinkling the sugar on the apples. Over the last layer spread the buttered crumbs. Cover, and bake in a moderate oven for 45 minutes, or until the cabbage and apples are tender. Toward the last remove the cover so the crumbs can brown. Serve in the baking dish.

Apple Tapioca

1-2 cup quick-cooking tapioca.

2 cups boiling water.

1-2 cup sugar.

1-2 teaspoon cinnamon.

1-2 teaspoon salt.

Juice of 1 lemon.

3 pints sliced tart apples.

Add the boiling water to the tapioca and cook in a double boiler for 15 minutes, or until the tapioca is clear. Add the sugar, cinnamon, salt, and lemon juice. Arrange the apples in a greased shallow baking dish and pour the tapioca mixture over them. Bake in a moderate oven until the apples are tender and the top is lightly browned. Serve hot or cold with plain or whipped cream.

Apple Upside-Down Cake

1-4 cup butter or other fat

1-2 cup sugar

1 egg

1 teaspoon vanilla.
1-2 cup sifted soft-wheat flour.
2 teaspoons baking powder.
1-4 teaspoon salt.
1-2 cup milk.
2 to 4 firm-fleshed apples.
2 teaspoons cinnamon mixed with 1-4 cup sugar.

Cream the fat, add the sugar, well-beaten egg, and vanilla. Sift the dry ingredients together and add alternately with the milk and the first mixture. Spread a thick coating of fat on the bottom and aside of a square or oblong baking dish or a very heavy pan. Pare, quarter, and slice the apples thin; spread in a single overlapping layer on the bottom of the baking dish, sprinkle with the mixture of cinnamon and sugar, and add another layer of apples and the remaining cinnamon and sugar.

Pour the cake mixture over the apples. The batter is rather thick and may need to be smoothed on top with a knife. Bake in a very moderate oven (300 to 325 F.) for 45 minutes. Loosen the sides of the cake, turn it out carefully, upside down, and the top will be covered with a neat layer of transparent apples. Serve hot with hard sauce or whipped cream.

APPLE DUMPLINGS
Roll out pastry dough in round about the size of fruit plates. In the center of each, place a pared and cored apple. Sprinkle the apple with a mixture of sugar, cinnamon, and a few grains of salt. Dot the fruit with butter, and lift up and press together the edges of the dough. Place in greased muffin tins and bake in a moderate oven (350 to 375 F.) for 30 minutes. Serve hot with hard or liquid sauce.

APPLE FRITTERS
3 medium sized tart apples.
1 cup sifted flour.
2 teaspoons baking powder.
1-4 teaspoon salt.
2-3 cup milk.
1 egg, well beaten.
Fat for frying.
Powdered sugar.

Pare, core, and cut the apples in crosswise slices about 1-4 inch thick. Sift the dry ingredients. Add the milk to the well beaten egg, then pour slowly into the dry mixture, and stir until smooth. Heat well-flavored fat to about 375 F. or until an inch cube of bread will brown in 1 minute. Dip the apple rings into the batter, drain, and put slowly into the hot fat without spluttering. Cook from 3 to 5 minutes or until the apples are tender and the fritter a golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper, sprinkle with powdered sugar and serve.

AERIAL FIRE HAZARDS

SAN FRANCISCO.—Aerial fire hazards, caused by dropping lighted tobacco from airplanes in flight, has been called to the attention of the flying public through posters placed at airports and in airplanes by the state Chamber of Commerce. Tests proving that cigarettes and cigars thrown from altitudes of 500 to 1,000 feet were burning when they reached the ground preceded the distribution of the posters.

State Problems

WHAT wheat is to Kansas and oil is to Oklahoma cotton is to Louisiana. In the past they have been the richest resources of those states, but today they are their greatest problems and the basis for economic chaos and political confusion.

Production run wild is the trouble in all three instances. This year's surpluses are far beyond the maximum consumption, and, to make matters worse, consumption both at home and abroad is near the minimum. Therefore the remedies must be applied to production.

Oklahoma did just that by shutting down all wells until reserves have been consumed, after which production will be regulated. Louisiana is taking steps that amount to the same thing. Its method is a cotton holiday in 1932 to permit the world to catch up with production.

These are revolutionary methods but they are at least state control, which is preferable to federal interference with state problems. Governors Long, Murray and Sterling and their respective legislatures have acted wisely in not taking their state problems to Washington.

Governor Sterling's remark when Governor Huey Long appealed to Texas to cooperate with Louisiana by declaring a cotton holiday applies to all states with agricultural troubles. They are their babies and they should wash them. Nothing good will come of federal attempts at granting relief. Relief, like charity, must begin at home.

Uncle Sam Borrows

DWINDLING revenue, mounting expenses and a huge treasury deficit left Uncle Sam the option of borrowing another billion or raising taxes. Announcement that he will issue $800,000,000 in 24-year bonds at 3 per cent and $300,000,000 of one-year treasury certificates at one and one-eighth per cent indicates he has chosen the former course.

Nor was this decision contrary to popular wish. In the midst of a major business depression and as acute unemployment situation the taxpayers are in a better position to pay low interest rates on a billion plus than they are to find the billion and a tenth.

Uncle Sam's credit is good. His bonds and certificates will find a ready market even in times as hard as the present. Moreover, these loans are part of a program of sound financing.

Every investor who buys one of the new bonds or certificates will be investing in United States futures. He will be banking on the eternal ability of his country to come back. And after all the country is not in such a bad way. Things were a great deal worse in 1920 and the national debt in that year was several billions more than it is now. With its resources the United States is competent to pay off obligations many times its present liabilities.

Good Year for Baseball

FIVE months ago, according to the dopsters, the 1931 world's series would be played on any two of 16 different diamonds. Every team in the two major leagues was picked to win the league pennants.

The lucky guessers can now say, "I told you so." Some of the games will be played in Philadelphia and only a miracle can keep the remainder from St. Louis. They are going home to roost where they have done some roosting in recent years.

Baseball fans are now torn between two conflicting emotions. They dread the closing of the baseball season yet are impatient for the fight for the world's championship. Perhaps they would manage the thing better by opening a new season after the first game of the series.

Taking account of stock of the current season a little prematurely it is found to have been little the worse for the depression and unemployment and to have been bigger and better than ever as the greatest sport show on earth. Baseball is still king, and if anything, a better king from every angle.

The 1931 season will go down in baseball lore as a year of great teams and great players.

CHAPTER LV.

"M"

mother hasn't had a chance to know you yet," he told her quietly.

"You must remember that when I returned to her from the war she had heard nothing from me in months. And I returned pretty much of a wreck, mentally and physically, with just one thought in my mind, to find you again; with the fixed idea that we had been married, that you were my wife. It was considerable of a shock to her; and when, after engaging agents to search for the record of the marriage and for word of you, she discovered absolutely nothing, she quite naturally became convinced that if you ever had existed, you existed no longer, and that we were not married. The deception she and Dr. Matthews undertook when Mary Lou, with her resemblance to you, came here, was undertaken solely because they felt that my condition called for it, and so didn't, I suppose, look very far ahead."

"You don't blame them, then, or her?" she asked curiously.

"No. Not now. But it couldn't have continued much longer," he answered, staring out of the window at the moving pattern of tree branches against the clear, blue sky. "I think they imagined that, gradually, as I became more like myself, I would remember everything, I would begin to question more closely and perhaps come to the right conclusion by myself. I don't believe, however, that I would have ever done so. I think that the encounter with you was the only cure. Strong medicine," he said, with half a smile. "I wouldn't live again through those few bewildered seconds when I saw you and heard you speak again, for anything I know of. My entire world was turned upside down. There seemed no foothold in it, no sanity. But it was best for us all that it happened."

"Was it? I wonder?" Delight turned her head, forced his eyes down on her own. "Lorry, there's no use being chivalrous and all that. You don't want me. You don't love me. For a time, you loved a memory. But not me."

Heart to Heart

As he hesitated she cried out, sharply:

"Oh, be honest with me, Lorry! Isn't that the most important thing we have left to give each other?"

But she flushed as she said it. For she had not given him honesty. Not yet, and thought, fleetingly and rather tragically, that if he denied her accusations she might close her eyes to everything else and try to believe him, and so forget her own integrity.

"No," said Lorry finally. "I don't love you, Delight. I loved the girl you were, a long time ago, and then, as you have said, her memory."

"And since then," she probed, with a sharp stab of authentic jealousy which she was unable to conquer, "since then, you've loved the understudy of that memory, have you not?"

He did not answer. How much was real, how much a part? The question had tormented him for hours; would continue to do so, he thought, until he died. Did he love Mary Lou, the girl herself, the girl who had become, suddenly and dramatically, a stranger?

"I don't know," he answered, miserably.

In Doubt

Delight watched him. There was pity in her eyes and a sort of cynical resignation. We have, I think, something to build on. I—do you know," he said, and stopped to smile at her, in a sudden, whimsical astonishment. "I am really very fond of you, Delight. I just found that out! I think perhaps I could make you happy. At all events I could take you away from a lot of things which I don't believe you like very much, and do my best to make you a good husband. I don't suppose you, and I answered you honestly. I won't ask you if you care for me; I know that you do not. But—do you care for anyone else?"

"I might ask you that," she murmured. "In fact, I have! No, Lorry."

"Then—will you marry me?" he asked again. "We have each other once. We have, I think, something to build on. I—do you know," he said, and stopped to smile at her, in a sudden, whimsical astonishment. "I am really very fond of you, Delight. I just found that out! I think perhaps I could make you happy. Knife Is Only Remedy for Certain Ailments

Dr. Copeland Explains How to Avoid Becoming a Victim of One of Them

By R. S. COPELAND, M.D., U. S. Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health,
New York City.

EVERY now and then there springs up an establishment claiming to cure every sort of ailment. Recently my attention was directed to such an institution.

This one claims to cure hemorrhoids by injecting into the body some kind of a salve. I have no doubt that many sufferers from this common ailment seek relief from these "healers." Yet I am quite sure that no such treatment can possibly remove hemorrhoids.

There is a treatment for this ailment spoken of as the "injection treatment," which is capable of bringing about a cure. It must be applied by a recognized surgeon and extends over a considerable period of time. It is a method of treatment which is advised only for those persons who for any reason cannot undergo an operation.

A "hemorrhoid," or "pile," is a small swelling, either within or outside the lower end of the large intestine. This swelling is covered with mucous membrane or skin. In the center of the swelling is one or more dilated veins. In other words, a varicose condition of the vessels has developed.

Hemorrhoids are usually caused by constipation, with its accompanying irritation and straining. Certain conditions of middle age tend to bring on this undesirable weakness.

The operation for removal of the irritated areas may be safely done on even elderly individuals. There is comparatively little risk. The cure actually depends upon removal.

The prevention of hemorrhoids is simple, requiring a proper understanding of the diet. When the diet contains sufficient vegetables and material supplying "roughage," the body will be assured a healthy elimination.

If there are associated conditions, such as I have mentioned, they should be removed. No complete and permanent cure of hemorrhoids can be brought about unless every such factor is entirely eradicated.

Answers to Health Queries.

Mrs. H. T. Q.—Every time I open my mouth my jaw seems to come out of place with a sort of jar, making a cracking noise and causing soreness of the parts. What could be the cause and what is the treatment—the trouble is worse on the right side?

A.—Try to find the cause first of all. Massaging the parts with warm oil over oil upon retiring at night should prove soothing. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Mary B. Q.—How much should a girl of 14 weigh?

2.—What do you advise for pimples?

A.—Her correct weight depends on her height as well as her age.

2.—First correct the diet, by cutting down on sugar, starches and coffee. Eat simple food. Send self-addressed, stamped envelope for full particulars and repeat your question.

BMM. Q.—When a goitre is beginning can it be cleared up without operation? What treatment do you advise?

A.—This depends entirely upon the type of the goitre and extent of the trouble. The treatment should be determined by your doctor. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

To those who do not know your business it does not exist. People are forgetful. It takes continuous advertising to make them know your business and not forget it.

Ill Jurist

The illness of Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, dean of the United States Supreme Court, is causing much concern. The venerable jurist, who recently celebrated his ninetieth birthday, is confined to bed at his Summer home at Beverly Farms, Mass.

nine months and taught a three months school at $20 a month and boarded at home. I pause to remark that these $3,500 superintendents and $150 a month teachers will have to "get down to earth." We are paying too much for education. More than one-half of our taxes goes to the schools.

The old log school house has our fondest recollections. "Them was the happy days." We wrote the copies in their copy books, usually commencing with the "a," "b," "c," "s"—"A man of words"; "Be just as well as generous"; "Command you may"; "Do unto others, etc., etc." and yes I have made many a quill pen for the pupils and can make them now. If you don't think so, bring me a good goose quill. And they're not so bad—better than some of the pens nowadays.

I close with a little incident: Taking the names of the pupils on the first morning of school, I came to a little woolly-headed tot, and asked his name. "Tight," he said without hesitation. I asked "Tight what." "Jis' Tight," he said. I learned from others his full name.

But "Tight" grew to manhood and became a magistrate and a man of some importance. I can't say that I put him on the road, but I taught him his ABC's. Tell Pat to please refresh his recollection as to Blondin.

Yours truly,
I. N. ABERNETHY
Editor's Note: Mr. Abernethy, in reference to Blondin. In the composition of the "Did You Know" column the date 1859 was transposed to 1895. This accounts for the mistake. Our original information was 1859.

Looking Back In Pickaway County

POLISH AVIATOR RESOURCEFUL TALES OF HIS DEEDS DISCLOSE

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 4.—Poland has sent to the National air races here one of the world's paramount fliers and an airplane which, according to engineers, for fighting ability has no superior in the world.

The flier is Captain Boleslaw Orlinski, a chubby 32-year-old airman who has proved a favorite among pilots. The plane is an all-metal monoplane built like a sea-gull.

Orlinski is the product of a ten-year uphill fight for aerial recognition by Poland. He said he had wanted to fly since he was 12 years old. He started flying in 1920, and in 1926 successfully completed a flight from Warsaw to Tokyo and return under the most difficult circumstances.

The Polish airman does not speak English, but International News Service was granted an interview through an interpreter. Obviously an ardent Orlinki admirer, the interpreter explained that the flier was a resourceful chap, and recalled one experience.

Returning from Tokyo to Warsaw in 1926, the Polish airman's plane was caught, in a storm, blown to earth, and part of one wing smashed.

Orlinski crawled out on the other wing and cut off a section similar to that crushed so as to balance the plane. Then he flew 4,000 miles home. In addition to the torn wings, the plane also had a split propeller and a bent strut.

The Polish flier thinks American planes and motors are the best in the world. He was enthusiastic over the demonstration of formation flying by the Selfridge field, Mich., army squadron.

"That," he said, "is what we are learning to do in Poland on a small scale now. We have 3,000 planes in all, but many of them are obsolete. We have just started the manufacture of 150 planes similar to that I am flying. It is a splendid plane. All of the rivets were put in by hand."

Orlinski is a breath-taking stunt-er himself, but says stunting is not what makes a good pilot.

His one criticism of American aviation was the large number of types of planes.

"Standardize your types," he said, "and it will be found that flying will make more progress. It will not be long before everybody will be flying. The airplane will be just like the automobile."

Orlinski doesn't think much of dirigibles. He said they cost too much to be practicable.

AMATEUR MEET IN SEMI-FINAL

Quimet, McCarthy, Howell and Westland Compete at Beverly Today.

BEVERLY COUNTRY CLUB, CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 4.—A slim, blond, smiling boy of 19, Billy Howell, of Richmond, Va., Francis Quimet, the 38-year-old veteran of Boston, courageous Maurice J. McCarthy, Jr., of New York and Jack Westland, Chicago's district champion, are today the semi-finalists in the 35th national amateur golf championship. They are all that are left of the field of 142 which started out so hopefully last Monday.

None of the four get a bigger "kick" out of reaching the semi-finals than does the youthful Billy Howell. He admits it. He's just one of those frank, open faced boys who slip over to the press tent after his matches to read what a newspaper friend from Richmond dispatches to his newspaper back home. He's keyed up over the idea of him, a comparative unknown, clashing today with the famous Quimet who won the national amateur way back in 1914.

McCarthy and Westland will meet in the other match. Howell and Quimet tee off at 9:30 this morning and McCarthy and Westland 15 minutes later. Both will be 36-hole matches.

Quimet won his way to the semi-finals by overwhelming young Paul Jackson, of Kansas City, 7 and 6, their match ending at the thirtieth hole.

McCarthy scored almost as easy a victory over Fay Coleman of Los Angeles whom he defeated, 6 to 3. McCarthy gave a great exhibition

"U. S. Should Lead"

Lord Beaverbrook (above), eminent British newspaper editor and author-statesman, arriving in the U. S. at New York for a vacation visit of uncertain length, warmly advocated America taking the lead in world affairs and staying out of the League of Nations. He declared that Russia is bound to fail, five-year-plan and all, and that England is in the same state of terror as America as to what Russia is going to do.

of golf by playing the morning round in par 71 which is a feat on a course as baffling and difficult as Beverly.

FIGHT IS FORECAST IN COUNCIL CIRCLES

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 4.—New hostilities between the state conservation council and State Director of Agriculture L. S. Guthery were forecast today after the council indicated it will name a new conservation commissioner despite a ruling by Attorney General Gilbert Bettman apparently giving that power to Guthery.

Conservation Commissioner John W. Thompson, Elida Republican, who recently resigned at the council's request, was temporarily replaced at last night's meeting by A. F. Moon of Conover, chairman of the council.

MOTHER WOULD BE GUARDIAN OF STAR

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 4.—Guardianship proceedings instituted by Mabel Leonard Cooper today had revealed that Jackie Cooper, 8, juvenile film star, makes $1,300 a week under a contract that will pay him $4,000 a week in its third year.

Mrs. Cooper in her petition for guardianship papers for her son asked authority from the court to spend $1,600 a month for the support of the boy star.

TREASURER'S PAPER AND CASH TURNOVER IN SEPTEMBER BIG

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—The treasury's paper and cash turnover for September, the first financing period of the 1932 fiscal year, will be approximately $2,400,000,000, the largest for a similar period, in years, it was indicated today.

For the next quarter the turnover will be $8,000,000,000 to $10,000,000,000 depending upon the excess of securities over the maturities. Judging from the fact that the issues of $1,100,000,000 in 3 percent bonds and 1-1-8 per cent certificates September 15 will exceed the maturities by about $500,000,000 and that revenues from income taxes will fall materially, there is no doubt but new bonds, certificates and bills will be much greater in volume than those to be retired.

The quarterly financing will include the issuance of $800,000,000 in 20-24 year bonds and $300,000,000 in one-year certificates. At the same time two blocks of certificates amounting to $634,000,000 bearing 2-3-8 and 1-1-2 percent interest will be retired.

While there will be a slight increase in the average rate of interest on the public debt by reason of the 3 per cent bond issue Sept. 15, owing to the $17,300,000,000 total debt, government interest charges will not be much boosted. June 30 the average rate was 3.56 per cent and there has been only slight change since then.

The maximum interest rate on government money was 4.34 per cent from May to July, in 1921. The average rate January 1, 1931, was 3.75 per cent. The steady decrease has been due to money market conditions and to the large use of 90-day bills in government borrowing by which money has been obtained at less than one-half of one percent.

Officials in discussing criticisms of the policy of making long term issues at this time at 3 percent when one year money may be obtained at 1-1-8 per cent took the position that in the long run the government will profit. They pointed out that the anticipated business revival will boost money rates and at that time the government will be profiting by making long term loans at three per cent.

HUNT ACCOMPLICE OF TRUSTED CLERK

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—The quest of accomplices of Walter E. Wolf, bank clerk who took more than $2,000,000 in securities from the Continental-Illinois bank, continued today.

While the drab little employee worked with auditors trying to determine the exact amount of his defalcations, reports were heard in La Salle street's financial district that a "mystery man" who handled many of Wolf's speculations had not been seen for several days. Two other men were also sought, in the belief that they accepted bonds and stocks from Wolf and placed them in the various brokerage houses.

BANK IS CLOSED

DETROIT, Sept. 4.—The Inkster National bank, a member of the federal reserve system at Inkster, near here, failed to open its doors today. No loss will be suffered by depositors, the board of directors announced.

Resources were listed at $285,000 and deposits at $250,000.

CLEVELAND CARD PARTY IS ROBBED

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 4.—Lining up their victims against the wall, five gunmen early today robbed a neighborhood card party in which 12 men and women participated, and escaped with a total sum of $500, according to police.

Three of the robbers entered the dwelling of Mrs. Mary Malak, on the east side, and staged the hold-up while their two companions waited at the wheel of a machine outside.

Gaining entrance by ringing the front door bell, the trio, all armed, ordered the guests to throw up their hands and proceeded to "frisk" each person, police were told.

GANG VICTIM

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 4.—Shot in what was believed to have been an attempted gang murder, a man identified as Eddie Schwartz, alias James Shelby, was reported in a critical condition at Mt. Sinai hospital today.

Schwartz, whose body was found in the yard of an east side home, had been shot in the head, according to police. Neighbors in the vicinity informed authorities that they saw a machine bearing a Michigan license drive away from the scene of the shooting.

John Collier of Hocking-co. found guilty of manslaughter of Lester Mills at his home near Ash Cave, was sentenced to the Ohio penitentiary by Judge Harley M. Whitcraft. Under the new law, the court in such case does not fix the minimum sentence to be served, but this is left to the discretion of the newly created parole board.

Mr. and Mrs. Sim Weil and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Weil of Lexington, Ky., were guests Thursday, of Mrs. Germain Joseph of N. Scioto-st. Jane Weil, who has been spending her vacation at Camp Pitt, at Poland, Maine, will accompany her parents home.

CHILEAN SEAMAN GAIN OBJECTIVE

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 4.—With the threat of a Communist regime overhanging the country, the Chilean government capitulated today to mutinous seamen who seized the fleet in the port of Coquimbo and reached an agreement involving cancellation of the naval pay cuts announced recently as an economic measure.

Under the terms of the agreement, negotiated by Admiral Von Schroeder aboard the flagship of the mutinous fleet, the sailors and non-commissioned officers involved in the uprising will not be punished or subjected to reprisals, but will immediately submit to naval discipline.

Oils Surprise Turning Back Grocers, 4 To 1

Ragged Fielding Aids Oil Outfit

The fourth game of the city's recreation ball league playoff was scheduled for Utilities field this evening after the Circleville Oils surprisingly turned back the threat of the Independent Grocers to end the series after three straight games. The Grocery boys had won the first two tilts, hands down, but Thursday evening Carl Purcell with excellent support by the entire team especially Merriman, turned back the Grocers. The score was 4-1.

The Oil pitcher who had not shown much in his first two starts against the Grocers was everything that he hadn't been and as a result only four hits, one of them a scratch, were gleaned off his tosses. He fanned two men and gave away a free ticket to first base. George Vlerbome pitched a nice game for the Grocers, giving nine hits and fanning one, but some timely hitting by the Oils, including a blow by Nickerson, and ragged fielding in left field and at short stop, put 'Boom' in hot water.

ERROR STARTS IT
The Oils started the fireworks in the first inning when Radcliff, dependable left fielder, dropped 'Pickens' fly. Merriman lined a single to center field on the first pitch, Pickens holding second. Pickens was forced at third. Vlerbome to Weder, but Smith cracked a single to center that scored Merriman. Steele singled and Nickerson drove a double to left center that plated Smith and Steele.

These three Oil runs came over after the Grocers had scored in the first half of the inning, their only marker of the game. Watson was out, but Maloney beat out a play at deep short. Vlerbome advanced Maloney to second and he scored when DZuro pegged Kline's grounder too late to the plate to get the runner. The paths were filled when Radcliff popped to Steele.

That ended the Oils offensive although they threatened several times, sterling plays by Merriman and DZuro saving the Oils' bacon a couple of times.

The final Oil run was tallied in the seventh when Pickens beat out a hit to Watson. He took second base on a short passed ball. Merriman hit a grounder to Wallace which the latter fumbled. Merriman beat the play to first and without hesitating at third, Pickens went to the plate beating Wallace's throw.

Merriman's three hits led the batters while Steele hit safely twice.

TWO DOUBLE PLAYS
Two double plays were chalked up in this setto. Mettler snagging Smith's line drive and doubling Merriman off second, and Merriman grabbing a groundball, touching second and pegging to first base.

It was expected Vlerbome and Purcell would again tangle this evening.

Before the series started it was agreed to use no players off other teams, but when both teams were short a player Thursday, the Grocers were permitted to use Maloney in right field and the Oils Geib on first base.

Umpires were Donohue behind the plate, Lynch at first base, Miller at second base and Pickens at third base.

English Speed Boat Is Conceded Edge Against Hope of Gar Wood

DETROIT, Sept. 4.—England's invasion of United States waters in the effort to recapture the coveted Harmsworth trophy in the International motor boat races Saturday appeared to have more chances for a successful conclusion today than at any other time during the past 11 years.

The mythical odds shifted in favor of Kaye Don, the young and likeable British challenger, who will attempt to wrest the water crown from the gray head of Gar Wood, American speedboat king.

Don pilots Miss England II a proven craft capable of 110 miles an hour. Wood's and America's hopes are pinned on the Miss America IX, although two other boats will fly the stars and stripes in the international event.

entered two of his other boats, the Miss America VIII and the Miss America V. However, the Miss America V may be shelved by the Horace Dodge mystery entry, Miss Syndicate III in an elimination feat today.

None of the latter three crafts, Miss America VIII, Miss America V and Miss Syndicate III are conceded a chance against the Kaye Don boat, Miss America IX.

In winning last year's races, Wood averaged 77 miles an hour in two heats with Miss America IX. In southern waters this spring, Wood managed to step the boat up to 98 miles an hour and he has added supercharges to his engine plant. It is still believed, however, that Miss England II is a faster boat than the American hope.

It will be a match of the novice against the veteran.

Kaye Don has never raced against opposition on the water before. His record-smashing time of 110 miles an hour was made over a straight-away course.

The course which he will have to drive in the races Saturday is of a triangular shape five nautical miles long. In the six laps of the first heat, he will be forced to make 18 turns.

Wood has been racing for a good number of years and his chances of winning are believed to hinge on his ability to negotiate the curves at a higher speed than the English boat.

Oils Surprise Turning Back Grocers, 4 To 1

Ragged Fielding Aids Oil Outfit

The fourth game of the city's recreation ball league playoff was scheduled for Utilities field this evening after the Circleville Oils surprisingly turned back the threat of the Independent Grocers to end the series after three straight games. The Grocers boys had won the first two tilts, hands down, but Thursday evening Carl Purcell with excellent support by the entire team especially Merriman, turned back the Grocers. The score was 4-1.

The Oil pitcher who had not shown much in his first two starts against the Grocers was everything that he hadn't been and as a result only four hits, one of them a scratch, were gleaned off his tosses. He fanned two men and gave nary a free ticket to first base. George Vlerebome pitched a nice game for the Grocers, giving nine hits and fanning one, but some timely hitting by the Oils, including a blow by Nickerson, and ragged fielding in left field and at short stop, put 'Boon' in hot water.

ERROR STARTS IT
The Oils started the fireworks in the first inning when Radcliff, dependable left fielder, dropped Pickens' fly. Merriman lined a single to center field on the first pitch, Pickens holding second. Pickens was forced at third. Vlerebome to Weffer, but Smith cracked a single to center that scored Merriman. Steele singled and Nickerson drove a double to left center that plated Smith and Steele.

These three Oil runs came over after the Grocers had scored in the first half of the inning, their only marker of the game. Watson was out, but Maloney beat out a play at deep short. Vlerebome advanced Maloney to second and he scored when DZuro pegged Kline's grounder too late to the plate to get the runner. The paths were filled when Radcliff popped to Steele.

That ended the Oils offensive although they threatened several times, sterling plays by Merriman and DZuro saving the Oils' bacon a couple of times.

The final Oil run was tallied in the seventh when Pickens beat out a hit to Watson. He took second base on a short passed ball. Merriman hit a grounder to Wallace which the latter fumbled. Merriman beat the play to first and without hesitating at third, Pickens went to the plate beating Wallace's throw.

Merriman's three hits led the batters while Steele hit safely twice.

TWO DOUBLE PLAYS
Two double plays were chalked up in this setto. Mettler snagging Smith's line drive and doubling Merriman off second, and Merriman grabbing a groundball, touching second and pegging to first base.

It was expected Vlerebome and Purcell would again tangle this evening.

Before the series started it was agreed to use no players off other teams, but when both teams were short a player Thursday, the Grocers were permitted to use Maloney in right field and the Oils Geib on first base.

Umpires were Donohue behind the plate, Lynch at first base, Miller at second base and Pickens at third base.

AT THE GRAND
During the making of Big 4's "Red Fort Range," playing at the Grand Theater, both Wally Wales, its hero, and Ruth Mix, were called upon to do some "fancy" riding and roping. In one scene the hero was called upon to enact a particularly difficult stunt.

"Double!" the director called. "Double?" Ruth looked in amazement then consternation, finally determination.

tion. No doubt for this lady of leaps!

Ruth did the stunt herself, jumping from a high cliff, seizing the branch of a tree, descending to the ground and securing her horse. She was out of the scene quicker than you could say Floyd Gibbons!

The picture, a sure-fire action Western, has a large and imposing cast, including Bud Osborne, Lufe McKee, Chief Big Tree and numerous others. The film was directed by Alvin J. Neitz.

20th ANNIVERSARY
The Screen's most unique stellar personality, loved the world over for himself, his songs, his vivacity comes to the Cliftona Theater Saturday next in his new starring picture, "The Smiling Lieutenant," directed by Ernst Lubitsch, maker of "The Love Parade" and "The Patriot." He is Maurice Chevalier, the smiling French entertainer whose love-making and love singing have made him the idol of two continents.

"Ladies' Man," the latest William Powell talkie, which comes to the Cliftona Theater on Wednesday and Thursday next, is based on the magazine serial of the same name, by Rupert Hughes, famous American novelist.

The story deals with a fascinating character, James Barriett, who, as the idol of the wealthier ladies of New York, gets himself into considerable difficulties with the wealthier gentlemen of the same glamorous metropolis.

Having proved himself to the American moving picture audience as a dramatic director of power and virility in a series of great emotional productions, the latest of which was Ruth Chatterton's "The Right to Love," Richard Wallace was assigned to guide Clara Bow in her first dramatic picture for the talking screen. "Kick In" is the picture in which Miss Bow makes her bow in emotional roles, and it will show at the Cliftona theater for two days, starting Friday next.

Some people think they have no pep unless they are getting excited about something or other.

competitive dash events yesterday by flashing over a 50-mile course at an average speed of 206.001 miles per hour. The event was a free-for-all open to planes of any piston displacement and was the sensation of navy day.

The previous high speed in air races competitive event was 201 miles an hour, set by "Speed" Holman in the Thompson 100-mile dash last year at Chicago. Bayles made the amazing flight, his second electrifying dash this week, in a specially-designed Gee Bee junior, made in Springfield, Mass. Tuesday Bayles sent his Gee Bee over a one-mile straightaway at a maximum speed of 286 miles an hour.

Except for one event in which he was not eligible and the race Bayles won, Johnny Livingston, stunt pilot of Aurora, Ill., captured first place in all the remaining competitive dashes on the program yesterday. He won two 30-mile and one 50-mile dashes as well as the dead stick landing contest to boost his total winnings for three days to $3,660.

Robert Hall, fellow townsman of Bayles, flying a less powerful Gee Bee, won the afternoon's first race, a 30-mile for small planes of less than 400-cubic inch displacement.

Trees; Their Value Told By Reid To Rotary Club

With a hobby for the out-of-doors, and for trees in particular, William Reid, speaking before the Rotary Club Thursday, gave some interesting information about trees and the important part they have had in the development of nations.

"Trees are now standing," he asserted, "that have seen many centuries of civilization and the Sequoia trees in California are said to be over a thousand years old. When our forefathers came to this country the land was covered with forests. With these trees they made their cabins, used them for fuel in keeping warm and for many other purposes. Then after many sections were cleared away crops were grown on this fertile soil."

Trees are conservers of moisture as well as producers of moisture and he explained how rains are more prevalent when there is a growth of trees.

Trees are valuable for scenery and the city without trees lacks the beauty of the city with trees that line streets and boulevards.

"The leaves are the lungs of the tree," he continued, "and without

Air Demons

Continued from Page One. competitive dash events yesterday by flashing over a 50-mile course at an average speed of 206.001 miles per hour. The event was a free-for-all open to planes of any piston displacement and was the sensation of the day.

The previous high speed in an air races competitive event was 201 miles an hour, set by "Speed" Holman in the Thompson 100-mile dash last year at Chicago. Bayles made the amazing flight, his second electrifying dash this week, in a specially-designed Gee Bee junior, made in Springfield, Mass. Tuesday Bayles sent his Gee Bee over a one-mile straightaway at a maximum speed of 286 miles an hour.

Except for one event in which he was not eligible and the race Bayles won, Johnny Livingston, stunt pilot of Aurora, Ill., captured first place in all the remaining competitive dashes on the program yesterday. He won two 30-mile and one 50-mile dashes as well as the dead stick landing contest to boost his total winnings for three days to $3,660.

Robert Hall, fellow townsman of Bayles, flying a less powerful Gee Bee, won the afternoon's first race, a 30-mile for small planes of less than 400-cubic inch displacement.

Trees; Their Value Told By Reid To Rotary Club

With a hobby for the out-of-doors, and for trees in particular, William Reid, speaking before the Rotary Club Thursday, gave some interesting information about trees and the important part they have had in the development of nations.

"Trees are now standing," he asserted, "that have seen many centuries of civilization and the Sequoia trees in California are said to be over a thousand years old. When our forefathers came to this country the land was covered with forests. With these trees they made their cabins, used them for fuel in keeping warm and for many other purposes. Then after many sections were cleared away crops were grown on this fertile soil."

Trees are conservers of moisture as well as producers of moisture and he explained how rains are more prevalent when there is a growth of trees.

Trees are valuable for scenery and the city without trees lacks the beauty of the city with trees that line streets and boulevards.

"The leaves are the lungs of the tree," he continued, "and without leaves trees could not live. They are the manufacturing plant of the trees."

Practically every tree has a peculiar identification mark and the leaves and bark are the two particular marks that one can easily identify the species.

He concluded his talk by showing several specimens of the maple leaf and explained their differences.

ANGRY THRONG

ered that O'Hara's return to Chicago meant that he would not want to be associated in the defense.

O'Hara, in commenting upon the demonstration to International News Service, today denied that anybody had sent him to Clarksburg and termed the action of the crowd "absurd and ridiculous."

"Regardless of the guilt or innocence of this particular prisoner it behooves a good American citizen to keep an open mind just as if he were a juror, until he learns all the facts," said O'Hara.

"I do not think the best citizens of Clarksburg or West Virginia sanction this outburst. But if they do, then it is high time, in the interests of American justice, to give this defendant, no matter how heinous his alleged crime, a trial in another state."
